AIR Grants Program projects to begin in Term 2, 2013

Challis Early Childhood Education Centre, Armadale - $30,000

Artists Sean Avery and Samantha Hughes will work with students to write, illustrate and publish a children's picture book based on the school's golden rule: 'Treat others with respect no matter how they treat you', which will be distributed in the Armadale community.

Yule Brook College, Maddington - $30,000

Black Swan State Theatre Company will work with students from years 8-11 and school staff about the techniques, language and conventions of theatre, as well as creative skills and critical appreciation.

Balingup Primary School and Nannup District High School - $30,000

Artist-in-residence Helen Hulme will partner with staff and students to create a book based on the theme 'People and Place'.

The students will produce a book of poetry involving discussions with local community members including bush poets, indigenous artists and local historians.

Quairading District High School - $30,000

Digital media/animation artist Steven Aiton will work with students and staff to compile a series of community stories based on the school's 100-year history, which will then be presented as part of the school's centenary celebrations in 2013.

Hospital School Services - $30,000

Community artist Charlotte O'Shea will inspire students to contemplate 'Futureworld' and what this means for the environment and new technologies.

The project includes students from Princess Margaret Hospital, Bentley Adolescent Unit and Shenton Park Family Pathways who will develop and create artwork for an installation and online art gallery. (Hospital School Services provides educational support for students whose physical or mental health prevents them from participating in school programs.)

North Albany Senior High School - $30,000

The school will deliver an illuminating dance project, 'Dare to Be', in partnership with Southern Edge Arts and specialist artists Symantha Parr, Annette Carmichael and David Nile.